

Jane Stricklin is the Executive Director of the Legislative Audit Commission. She has served in that position since 1999. She began her career in Illinois Government in 1983 on the House Democratic Staff's Issues Development Unit. She served as Operations Manager there for several years and briefly as Interim Director. Jane arrived in Illinois in 1980 to work on the Equal Rights Amendment. That effort finally came to an end last Spring when the Illinois legislature passed the ERA. Jane is a Texas native, but calls Springfield home. She has degrees from Angelo State University and the University of Iowa. Jane has four "adult" children with her partner of 32 years. She loves dachshunds, bicycling, her church, keeping up with local and national politics, and reading audit reports, of course.
