

Sarah Pratt presently serves as Public Access Counselor for Illinois Attorney General Kwame Raoul. Sarah began her career at the Attorney General's Office as an Assistant Attorney General in General Law and has worked as a litigator and supervisor in positions including Bureau Chief of Workers' Compensation and Bureau Chief of General Law in Springfield. In 2003, Sarah joined the private sector where she practiced workers' compensation and employment defense litigation. Sarah returned to the AG's Office in 2011 and has served as Bureau Chief of Public Access and Public Access Counselor. Among other duties, Sarah is a frequent speaker on the Open Meetings and Freedom of Information Acts. Sarah is a graduate of Illinois College with a B.A. in English and French, and earned her J.D. degree at the University of Illinois.