

Omar Cardenas, is the current Property Control Inventory Specialist at Northeastern Illinois University. He has been at this position since February 2022. He formerly was a Shipping and Receiving Clerk at the University, where he implemented the automation and implementation of the Pitney Bowes receiving platform and assisted with the documentation of property control records. He was a key individual in the implementation and administration of the new applications, and is currently the head of the Property Control Department. Omar has a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from University of Illinois at Chicago in Moving Images from the School of Art and Design.