Peter Morin

Peter Morin is a Principal with Grant Thornton where he leads their National Cybersecurity practice. He is a senior cyber security professional with over 25 years of experience focusing on information security risk management, developing and implementing security standards and frameworks, penetration testing, cyber threat incident response, application code analysis, malware analysis, and computer forensics. Peter has worked in senior positions for a number of organizations, including a national telecommunications and media company, Fortune 500 cloud-computing company, major US defense contractor, and a recognized cyber security software company. Peter is a frequent speaker on the subject of critical infrastructure protection, risk management, penetration testing, malware analysis and forensics and has presented at numerous events held by the HTCIA, black hat, PMI, Computer Security Institute, Interop, SANS, and ISACA. Peter is a frequent guest lecturer at numerous colleges and universities throughout North America and has also been featured in numerous publications including SC Magazine. Peter holds numerous security-related designations including the CISSP, CISA, CGEIT, CRISC, and GCFA.